

6/10/03 Delmar, NY For immediate release.

KnowledgeXtensions, Inc. introduces “e-Learning in a Box™” – an e-learning solution for smaller businesses and business units for only $4,995!

KnowledgeXtensions, a leading e-learning software company, has provided learning and content management technology for major corporations around the world for over five years.

KnowledgeXtensions has now streamlined its technology, put it on a CD-ROM, and radically reduced the price so smaller businesses and business units can easily afford to implement an e-learning initiative.

States David Geoghegan, KnowledgeXtensions’ President & CEO, “No longer does a company need a big training budget to afford a powerful e-learning system. No longer do they need an IT department and months of planning to deploy a new e-learning portal. e-Learning in a Box™ is a revolutionary software package that lets you Author, Deliver and Track e-learning— for under $5,000. e-Learning in a Box™ is an enterprise-wide e-learning system that’s been repackaged as an affordable and manageable solution for small businesses and business units.”

KnowledgeXtensions is offering a free 30 day evaluation version of e-Learning in a Box™ at www.elearninginabox.com. Customers can experience firsthand this easy to use content authoring and learning management system.

e-Learning in a Box™ is:

Easy to use

Can you use MS Word®? Then you can create e-learning, too! e-Learning in a Box™ allows you to use familiar, easy to use programs to create and control your content with no complicated programming skills to learn.

Simple

e-Learning in a Box™ installs in minutes onto any Windows® PC connected to your intranet or the internet. Your organization can have its own e-learning portal up-and-running in no time!

Affordable

This powerful tool Authors, Delivers and Tracks e-learning — all for under $5000.

e-Learning in a Box™ empowers your organization to:

- Author e-learning content using Microsoft Word®
- Deliver e-learning via your intranet or the internet
- Track e-learning using our powerful built-in learning management system (LMS)
- Train up to 100 employees
- Lower training costs
- Reduce travel
- Ensure consistent quality
- Broaden geographical reach
- Have 24/7 Access

KnowledgeXtensions, Inc., located in New York's Capital Region, is a leader in the development of personalized e-learning for corporations. Experienced in serving Fortune 500 companies including GE, IBM, PWC, DIEBOLD, NCR, AT&T, DELOITTE & TOUCHE, ANDERSEN CONSULTING, PRENTICE HALL, AMERICAN EXPRESS, and COMPAQ, KnowledgeXtensions offers a full-range of products and services dedicated to insuring the success of e-learning initiatives.

For more information call KnowledgeXtensions, at 1.866.LEARN.KX (866.532.7659)

(Questions or inquiries about this release? Please contact Peter Olsen. Technical questions can be directly addressed to David Geoghegan at KnowledgeXtensions, 1.866.LEARN.KX.)